RABBIT BURROW BUNNY BASE

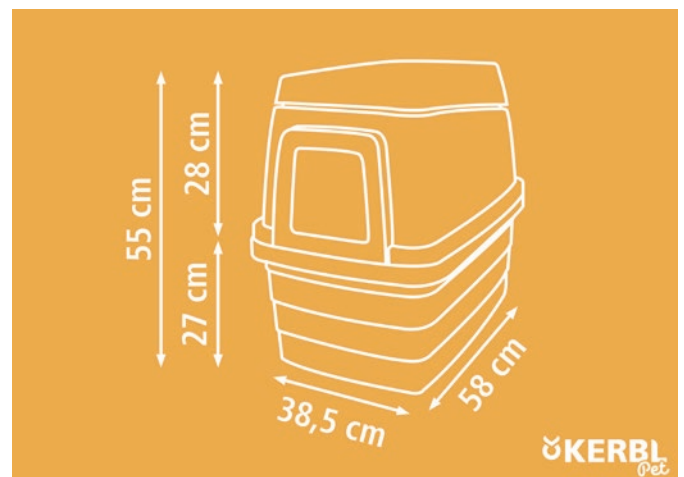

Rabbit Burrow Bunny Base

With the Bunny Base rabbit burrow, you can give your long-eared friends the perfect all-inclusive home: a burrow just like their natural habitat, with the luxurious upgrade of a drinking and eating area. Animals in the wild can only dream of such a den.

- natural space to live
- no more burrowing
- a pleasant climate all year round
- all-inclusive housing
- fast and tool-free installation

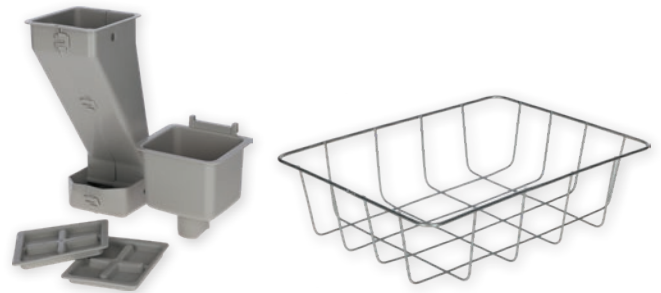

Luxury home for long-eared friends: Bunny Base is the perfect all-inclusive housing. The substructure integrated into the soil means that rabbits feel like they're in their natural habitat and no longer have the need to burrow. Your garden will thank you too.

On the top floor, the hay rack, feed dispenser and water bowl cater to their every need.

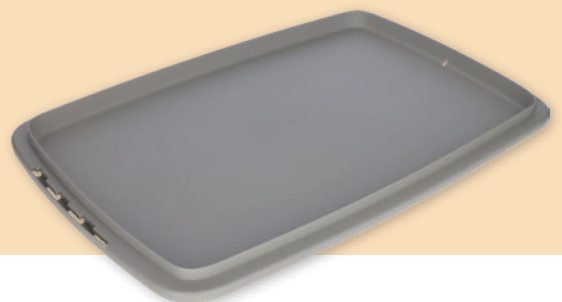

The removable floor tub in the substructure makes cleaning easier.

The additional intermediate shelf allows the top section to be used as a shelter in another location or as a transport box for when you are on the move (e.g. for a visit to the vet or a trip to your holiday accommodation).

Included in the scope of delivery!

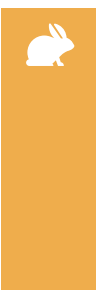

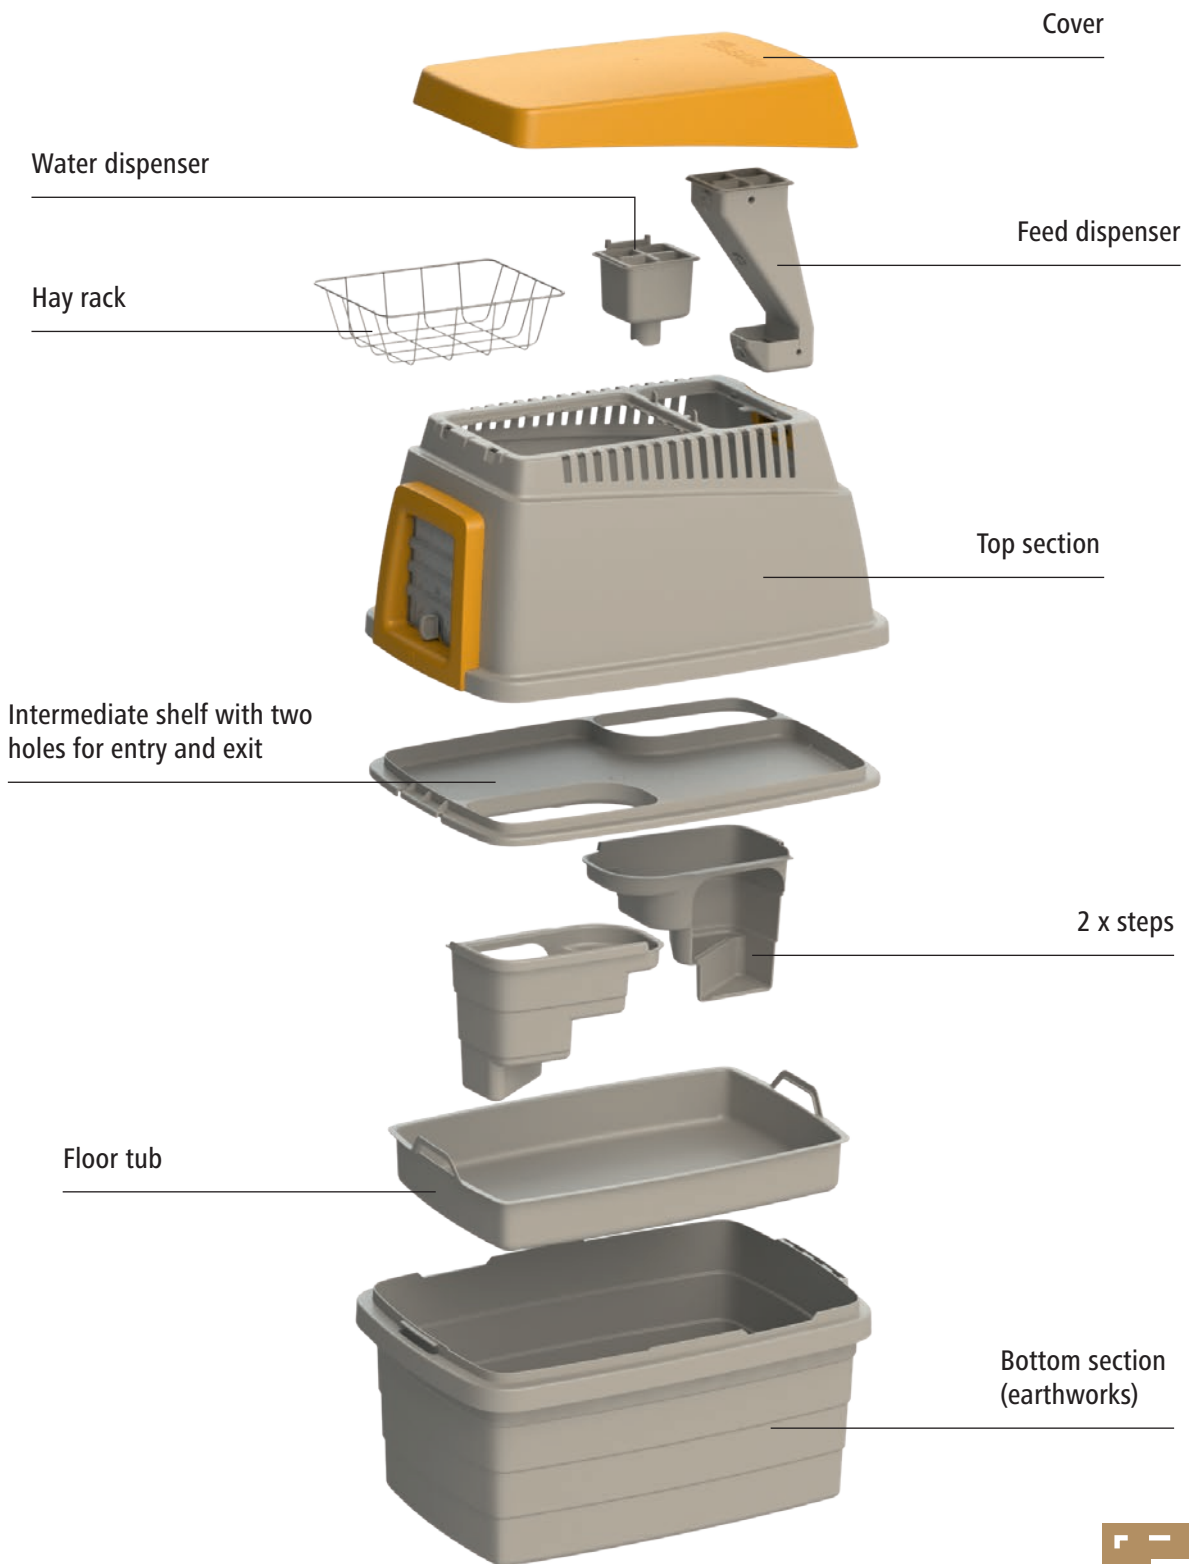

A secure home: the intelligent 4-way door can be set so that the animals can only get out, in, or in and out. A lock can also be put on the door, for example to protect them overnight, or when used as a transport box.

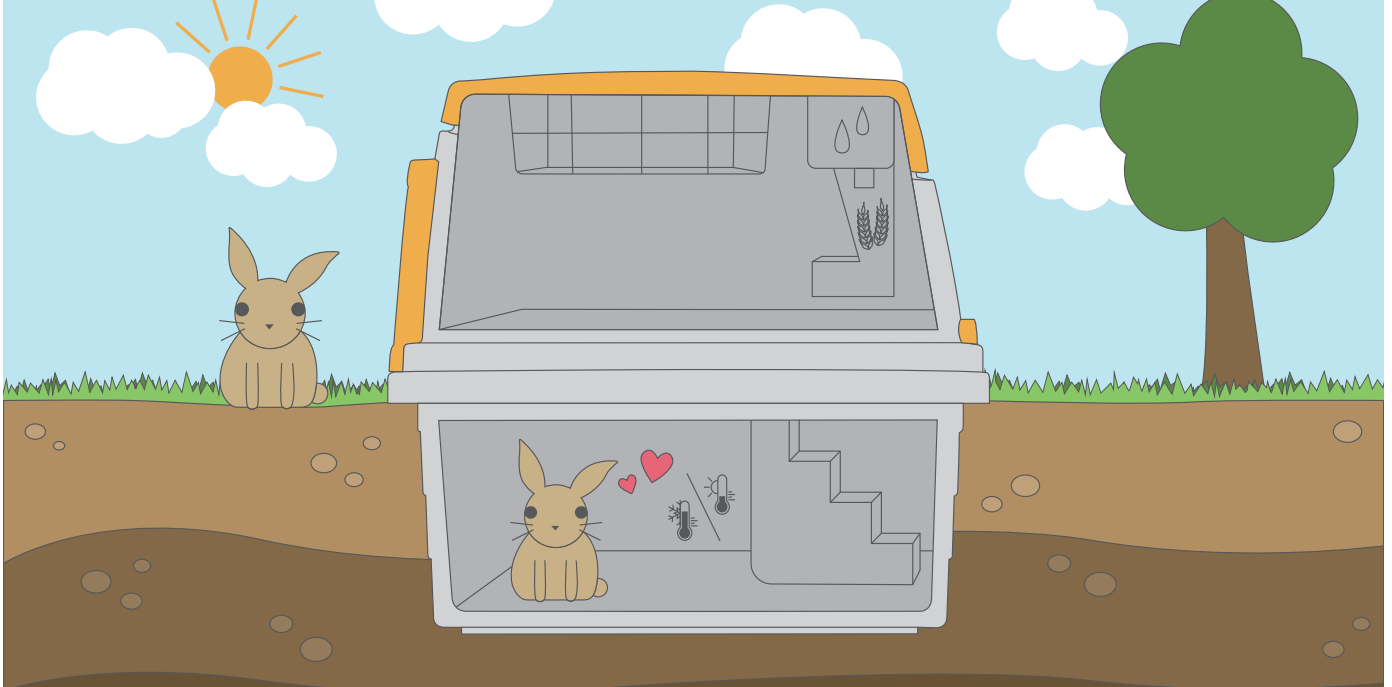

Weatherproof outdoor rabbit house for all-year use: by integrating the lower section into the soil, the Bunny Base always offers the ideal climate. Inside, it remains pleasantly cool in summer and protects the rabbits against cold in winter.

Flexible and practical: not only will your long-eared friends love the Bunny Base, you will too. The carefully thought-out product can be converted into a transport box with just a few moves, is super-easy to clean and can be assembled quickly thanks to the click system. All you need to do is dig out the hole in the soil.

Rabbit burrow Bunny Base

With the Bunny Base rabbit house, you can give your long-eared friends the perfect all-inclusive home: a burrow just like their natural habitat, with the luxurious upgrade of a drinking and eating area. Animals in the wild can only dream of such a den.

- a perfect home for rabbits with an underground burrow
- no more digging: the underground part is inserted into the ground and accepted by the rabbits as their burrow
- two entrances and exits prevent competitive pressure in the cave
- pleasant climate all year round (the structure protects against heat in summer and cold in winter)
- flexible 4-way door (depending on the setting, the animals can only go out, only come in, go out and come in or the door remains closed)
- with integrated hay rack, water and food dispenser - so the rabbits are sufficiently supplied over a longer period of time
- practical 3-in-1 product: earthworks, shelter and transport box in one
- removable floor tub in the substructure makes cleaning easier
- additional intermediate shelf allows the top section to be used as a shelter in another location or as a transport box for when you are on the move (e.g. for a visit to the vet or a trip to your holiday accommodation)
- simple, quick and tool-free assembly and disassembly thanks to a sophisticated plug-in and click system - all you need to do is „dig“ a hole in the ground to bury the substructure

Included in delivery: 1 x top section, 1 x bottom section (earthworks), 1 x feeding bucket (375 ml), 1 x feeder (850 ml), 1 x hay rack, 2 x steps, 1 x floor tub, 1 x additional intermediate shelf without holes (for conversion into a transport box or mobile day shelter)
